

VU Research Portal

Social Networks and Firm Performance:

Arzlanian, S.

2014

document version

Publisher's PDF, also known as Version of record

Link to publication in VU Research Portal

citation for published version (APA)

Arzlanian, S. (2014). Social Networks and Firm Performance: Examining the Relation between Dimensions of Social Capital, Social Network Perception and Firm Performance. ABRI.

General rights

Copyright and moral rights for the publications made accessible in the public portal are retained by the authors and/or other copyright owners and it is a condition of accessing publications that users recognise and abide by the legal requirements associated with these rights.

- Users may download and print one copy of any publication from the public portal for the purpose of private study or research.
- You may not further distribute the material or use it for any profit-making activity or commercial gain
- You may freely distribute the URL identifying the publication in the public portal ?

Take down policy

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

E-mail address:

vuresearchportal.ub@vu.nl

AFTERWORD AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The process of the PhD in times resembled the fate of Sisyphus, the tragic hero of Greek mythology. Much like the immense boulder that he had to push up the hill on a daily basis only to see it coming back down again, so in times did the PhD process appeared to be. However, this has been one of the most fulfilling journeys of my life. Not only did I get to accumulate great amount of knowledge, meet interesting and inspiring people, but I also got to really know myself.

It was my master thesis supervisor Peter Peverelli who convinced me to write a dissertation. I am grateful that I have received such an opportunity and I want to thank Peter for encouraging me to pursue my academic interests.

I want to thank my promotor, Tom Elfring, for his support during the project. He always provided the needed practical and theoretical support that was essential for me to complete my PhD.

Additionally, I want to thank my copromotor Wouter Stam. Wouter, I would like to thank you for your commitment, support and critical feedback that helped me throughout the project.

Furthermore, I would like to thank my former colleagues at the Faculty of Economics and Business Administration for their social and intellectual support.

I would also like to thank my friends. Special thanks goes to Hakob, Gilles, Sheir, Ahmad, Chris, Frank, Frederick, Ralf, Robbert, Mark, Gegard, Gevik, Cristo, and Steve.

Turning to my family, I want to thank them for their unconditional love, support and patience. I specially want to thank my daughter Anahit, you are the joy of my life!