Curriculum Vitae

Danielle Reynald worked as a newspaper and television court and crime reporter for the Trinidad Express Newspapers and Caribbean Communications Network (CCN)-TV6. She graduated with first class honours in Psychology from the University of Surrey in the United Kingdom, and completed an M.Sc. in Crime Science at the Jill Dando Institute of Crime Science, University College London (UCL). Her Master's thesis was entitled "A Situational Profile of Kidnapping for Ransom in Trinidad & Tobago". In October 2005, she joined the 'Mobility and Distribution of Crime' team at the Netherlands Institute for the Study of Crime & Law Enforcement (NSCR) as a PhD student investigating the routine activity concept of guardianship as a tool through which crime can be controlled.
