The absence of an acute insulin response predicts the onset of Type 2 diabetes in a Caucasian population with impaired glucose tolerance (IGT): The Horom IGT-STudy.