Contents

Chapter 1. General Introduction p. 7
Chapter 2. Filling up the hours: How do stroke patients in a rehabilitation nursing home spend the day? p. 21
Chapter 3. ‘Can practice undertaken by patients be increased simply through implementing agreed national guidelines?’ An observational study p. 35
Chapter 4. Cognition in relation to independency in older, comorbid stroke patients in a stroke unit p. 55
Chapter 5. The effects of increased therapy time on cognition and mood in frail patients with a stroke who rehabilitate on rehabilitation units of nursing homes in the Netherlands: a protocol of a comparative study p. 79
Chapter 7. General Discussion p. 129
Chapter 8. Summary (English and Dutch) p. 157
Chapter 9. Biography and Acknowledgements p. 167