

VU Research Portal

Collaboration and innovation between heterogeneous actors

Hummel, J.T.

2019

document version

Publisher's PDF, also known as Version of record

Link to publication in VU Research Portal

citation for published version (APA)

Hummel, J. T. (2019). Collaboration and innovation between heterogeneous actors.

General rights

Copyright and moral rights for the publications made accessible in the public portal are retained by the authors and/or other copyright owners and it is a condition of accessing publications that users recognise and abide by the legal requirements associated with these rights.

- Users may download and print one copy of any publication from the public portal for the purpose of private study or research.
- You may not further distribute the material or use it for any profit-making activity or commercial gain
- You may freely distribute the URL identifying the publication in the public portal ?

Take down policy

If you believe that this document breaches copyright please contact us providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

E-mail address:

vuresearchportal.ub@vu.nl

Appendices

Acknowledgements

ABRI dissertation series

Acknowledgements

There are many people who have contributed to this dissertation and I would like to thank them all. First of all, I would like to thank all Dutch citizens who indirectly contributed to this dissertation through the funding of the Netherlands Organization for Scientific Research (NWO) file number 409-13-212. I thank you for giving me the opportunity to learn so much and I can safely say I worked through blood, sweat, and tears to get everything out of the research. Thank you all.

Most of all I would like to thank my PhD supervisors Professor Marleen Huysman, Professor Hans Berends and PhD co-supervisor Dr. Philipp Tuertscher. You have stuck with me along the way and I am honored and grateful for that.

Marleen, I thank you for seeing potential in me back in 2012 while being a Bachelor student at the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam. You had trust in me and trained me as a researcher. It still means the world to me to have been trained by you and to be given the opportunity to be part of your research group. I am thankful for your help in attaining a position at Warwick Business School.

Hans, I hope you know how much your guidance has meant to me. I thank you for providing me with endless lessons and support throughout this process. I could count on you and that meant a lot to me. Together with Philipp I think we have formed a good team and worked well together. I have learned many things from you, such as how to write more clearly, to elaborate contributions, and to pose an interesting research question. Methodologically you have taught me many things. I want to thank you for inviting me to do a PhD at the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam. It has been a life-changing experience. I feel proud when I tell other people that I have been trained by you. I hope our collaboration and innovation research will continue in the future.

Philipp, thank you for providing me with many lessons learned, as well as for your endless support and creativity in the process. You have taught me to think and reason critically, to be interested, and to study the role of technology in organizations. I also thank you for sitting through endless meetings working through our paper. I hope we can keep working together in the future. You have trained me in many things, such as sound qualitative data collection, and supported me in adopting new data analysis techniques such as topic modeling. Also, I have always felt very comfortable at conferences being under your tutelage. I am proud to tell others that you have trained me.

Professor Shaz Ansari is thanked for generously inviting me over to Cambridge Judge Business School. Shaz, thank you for working together with Hans, Philipp, and me on the third paper of this dissertation. I am proud that I have been able to learn so much from you during my stay and especially how to frame interesting research questions and contributions.

I am truly indebted to the many people of Helix Nebula. Thank you for giving so generously of your time and helping me understand the process of collaboration, even to the detail of access to meeting minutes and the e-mail data. I hope I have done honor to you all with my research. In particular the members of the MT are thanked for taking me on board so generously and for trusting me along the way. I do not list names here because of privacy reasons but I am sure you will know to whom I relate.

Professor Dries Faems, Professor Stefan Haefliger, Professor Bart van den Hooff, Professor Andrea Prencipe, and Professor Wouter Stam are thanked for being members of the reading committee. I am proud to have a committee with names that are fundamental to the combination of collaboration, technology and innovation, and information systems that I position my research in. Thank you for your time and valuable feedback on my manuscript. I am honored to have you as members of my reading committee.

There is a long list of academic colleagues I would like to thank, all of whom have contributed to developing me as an academic.

Fleur Deken for her support and enthusiasm about research and teaching me a lot of valuable lessons along the way about how to produce quality research in a manner that is also realistic.

Raghu Garud for the valuable lessons about academia during conferences and the participation in the MGMT 590 course.

Paul Carlile for helping me to think clearly about collaborations.

Barbara Czarniawska for opening my eyes on the value of my research.

Mark de Rond for inspiring me with his research in extreme contexts and for making me feel at home during my visit in Cambridge.

Ola Henfridsson for giving me the opportunity and trust to continue my research at Warwick Business School and for his collaboration and education.

Joe Nandakumar is thanked for mentoring me in my next steps as an academic.

Joep Cornelissen for training me in theory building and many other lessons provided in conversations.

Nima Amiryany for inspiring me to become a researcher.

I want to thank Gerben de Jong sincerely for helping me to write my first code in R to explore the e-mail data.

Professor Van den Bosch and Rick Hollen are thanked for introducing me to collaboration research during my Master study at the Rotterdam School of Management, I still benefit from that.

I want to thank all the colleagues at Cambridge Judge Business School, especially Joanna Blakeman, Jennifer Howard-Grenville, and the PhD students.

I want to thank the many people at the KIN Center for Digital Innovation who inspired me and helped me throughout the dissertation process. Anastasia, Stella, Montserrat, Natalja, Wendy, Nick, Susan, Maura, Frank, Mohammad, Marijn, Amanda, Julia, Dennis, Marlous, Ella, Sascha, Rosalinde, Mahmood, Martijn, Frans, Han, Jovana, Elmira, Serge, and Sander are thanked for being a fantastic bunch of colleagues to work with. Other people I am thankful are: Mira Maletic, Ina Putter, Marc Bahlmann, Samer Faraj, Michael Barrett, Victor Gilsing, Wout Dullaert, Ingmar Leijen, people of ABRI at the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam.

Mark Twemlow is thanked for offering so generously his time to read through the versions of the papers presented in my thesis, checking them for language and grammar mistakes. Your expertise meant a lot to the quality of this manuscript. I want to thank Florence Goes, who has helped and supported me preparing for the day of the defense. Florence, your support has given me a lot of trust and helped me to relax in the process. Markus Nordberg, thank you for the opportunities you provided me with.

I want to thank some close friends who have supported me along the way and showed interest in my progress. Floris van Keeken, for his interest and for keeping in touch with me. Melvin Nalbach, for his enthusiasm. Actually, I think you were the first who mentioned that I had the ability to do a PhD. Frans Kortekaas, thank you for your interest along the way. Stavros Polykarpou, thank you for all the inspiring conversations. Jelle van Baardewijk, I am grateful to you for inspiring me to think critically.

I want to give my sincerest and honest gratitude to Hein. Hein, you have helped me through the years in many ways and gave me confidence. Thank you for everything you have done for me. Your support meant and still means a lot to me.

Finally, I wish to thank my family and closely related people who mean the most to me: my sister Lianne Hummel, my girlfriend Lauren Waardenburg, and my parents Piet Hummel and Regina Ambagtsheer. I will address them in my native language Dutch.

Ik wil graag mijn familie bedanken voor hun interesse in mijn ontwikkeling de afgelopen vier jaren. Jullie belangstelling naar mijn vorderingen tijdens verjaardagen en andere familiebijeenkomsten was motiverend en inspirerend.

Ik ben dank verschuldigd aan mijn grootouders en ouders die destijds hard hebben gewerkt zodat hun kinderen een betere start kregen in de maatschappij. Ik ben blij dat Blientje Hummel-de Bruin, mijn oma, deze dag mag meemaken. Oma, bedankt voor alle lieve woorden en kaartjes, die ik van u mocht ontvangen, zelfs in Engeland weet u mij te vinden.

Lieve Lianne, dankjewel voor alle steun die je mij hebt gegeven in de afgelopen jaren. Wij zijn samen in een geweldig gezin opgegroeid en ik ben trots op de goede band die we met elkaar hebben. Je bent altijd een voorbeeld voor mij geweest en toch heb je mij steeds de ruimte gelaten om de dingen op mijn manier te doen. Ik heb op belangrijke momenten bij jou aan kunnen kloppen en een luisterend oor gevonden in mijn zoektocht naar nieuwe mogelijkheden. Ik ben trots op wat jij en ik hebben bereikt in de afgelopen jaren. Fijn dat jij mijn paranimf wilt zijn. Met al jouw ervaring op dit terrein kan ik me geen betere wensen.

Lieve Lauren, aan het begin van mijn PhD ontmoette ik jou. Ik zal nooit de dag vergeten dat ik jou voor de eerste keer zag op de Vrije Universiteit. Ik zou willen dat ik een proces overview van mijn PhD-jaren had, zodat ik aan iedereen kon laten zien het moment dat jij mijn leven binnenwandelde. Het is fijn een lieve partner te hebben om mee te sparren en die mij intellectueel weet uit te dagen. Tijdens de moeilijke momenten in mijn PhD-traject stond je altijd voor mij klaar en hielp je de knopen in mijn hoofd te ontwarren. Liefdevol en met overgave steunde je mij om ook de laatste veranderingen in mijn dissertatie door te voeren. Bedankt dat je ook nog mijn paranimf wilt zijn, dat maakt de dag in de aula van de Vrije Universiteit te Amsterdam voor mij heel bijzonder. Dankjewel voor alle steun, vertrouwen, hulp, eindeloos geduld en liefde.

Als laatste wil ik mijn ouders Piet en Regina bedanken. Lieve Piet en Regina, al de jaren van steun en vertrouwen hebben mij gekregen op de plek waar ik nu ben. Jullie hebben voor mij een omgeving gecreëerd waar ik met vallen en opstaan kon groeien en de kans had mij als mens zo breed mogelijk te ontwikkelen. Jullie hebben altijd vertrouwen in mij gehouden en dat waardeer ik enorm. De band die ik met jullie heb, is mij zeer dierbaar.

Lieve Piet, dank voor de interesse in mijn onderzoek, de kansen die je mij geboden hebt, en het vol overgave helpen met afronden van mijn proefschrift.

Lieve Regina, dankjewel voor het eindeloze geduld met mij. Zonder jouw hulp, inzet en vertrouwen in mij was ik nooit zo ver gekomen als dat ik nu ben. Ook jij bedankt voor de hulp met het afronden van deze dissertatie.

ABRI dissertation series

1. Drees, J.M. (2013). The polycentricity of expansion strategies: Beyond performance as a main driver.
2. Arzlanian, S. (2014). Social networks and firm performance: Examining the relation between dimensions of social capital, social network perception and firm performance.
3. Fleisher, C. (2014). The contemporary career navigator: Individual and organizational outcomes of self-directed career management.
4. Wruck, S. (2014). Warehouse operations revisited - Novel challenges and methods.
5. Volk-Makarewicz, W. (2014). Advances in derivative estimation: Ranked data, quantiles, and options.
6. Van Anholt, R. (2014). Optimizing logistics processes in cash supply chains.
7. Polat, T. (2015). Active aging in work: Motivating employees to continue working after retirement.
8. Ossenkop, C. (2015). What you see is what you get!? Looking into ethnic diversity and professional careers in Dutch organizations.
9. Engel, Y. (2015). Venturing into the unknown, but not for the first time: An examination of firm-founders' careers & entrepreneurial decision-making under uncertainty.
10. Kolbe, L. (2015). The mindset of the R&D professional: Decision making in innovative context.
11. Pachidi, S. (2015). Crunching the numbers: Studying the enactment of analytics in an organization.
12. El Baroudi, S. (2015). Shading a fresh light on proactivity research: Examining when and how proactive behaviors benefit individuals and their employing organizations.
13. Eijdenberg, E. L. (2016). Small business growth in east African least developed countries: Unravelling the role of the small business owners.
14. Lysova, E.I. (2016). What does your career mean to you? Understanding individual career and work behaviors through the prism of the meaning of career.
15. De Mol, E. (2016). Heart and brain: The influence of affective and rational determinants in new venture teams: An empirical examination.
16. Daubner-Siva, D. (2016). Dealing with dualities: A paradox perspective on the relationship between talent management and diversity management.
17. Berkhout, J. (2016). Topics in Markov chain theory and simulation optimization.
18. Van-Werven, R. (2017). Acquiring resources for a new venture: A study of the micro-level linguistic practices of startup entrepreneurs.
19. Prats Lopez, M. (2017). Managing citizen science in the Humanities: The challenge of ensuring quality.
20. Kaandorp, M.S. (2017). Creating from within: A study on interpersonal networking approaches and intuition in task-related interaction.
21. Van Grinsven, M. (2017). A patient is not a car; Lean in healthcare: Studying agency in the translation of management concepts.
22. Muleta Eyana, S. (2017). Entrepreneurial behavior and firm performance of Ethiopian tour operators.
23. Van Ee, M. (2017). Routing under Uncertainty: Approximation and complexity.
24. Van Dijk, M. (2017). When I give, I give myself: essays on individual contributions to societal goals.

25. Oostervink, N. (2017). Self-Organizing Knowledge: Examining the conditions under which professionals share and integrate knowledge.
26. Mousavi, S. (2017). Managing innovation for sustainability: A dynamic capabilities approach.
27. Cai, W. (2017). Awakening employee creativity in organizations.
28. Kranzbuhler, A.M. (2018). Orchestrating the customer journey: Four essays on how to create meaningful customer experiences.
29. Chabala, M. (2018). Small firm growth in a least developed country: How small firm owners affect the growth of their firms in Zambia.
30. Choongo, P. (2018). Sustainable Entrepreneurship in Zambia: The engagement in and effect of sustainable practices in small and medium-sized enterprises.
31. Hilbolling, S. (2018). Organizing ecosystems for digital innovation.
32. Van der Wal, A. J. (2018). Harnessing ancestral roots to grow a sustainable world.
33. Hofstra, N. (2018). Individual decision-making in operations: A behavioral perspective.
34. Mu, Y. (2019). Management of Service Innovation Quality.
35. Stephenson, K.A. (2019). Paperless professors: A study of changing academic work and workspaces.